Borneo

Malaysia comprises of two bodies of land, forming a tropical archipelago of some of the most picturesque islands on Earth. Sitting right at the heart of South-East Asia, the two lands are separated by the clear, warm waters of the South China Sea.

Peninsula Malaysia is home to the capital, Kuala Lumpur. This vibrant city is a mixture of western influences and eastern cultures and a shoppers paradise.

Borneo (Sabah): The State of Sabah sits at the tip of the island of Borneo. Sabah is considered to be one of the most biologically rich regions on the planet. Lapped by the South China Sea on the west and the Sulu and Celebes Seas on the east, Sabah is covered in lush rainforests with an unsurpassed collection of plants and animal species.

Off the coast of Sabah lie the neighbouring islands of Sipidan, the crown jewel of Malaysian diving, Mabul, Kapalai, Labuan, Lankayan and Layang-Layang, all of which could be on the worlds "best dive sites" list.
