Port Lincoln

South Australia

Port Lincoln is located on the Spencer Gulf, which empties into the Southern Ocean the world's last true marine wilderness. It is home to the most spectacular and rarest of the world's sea creatures, such as the Blue Whale, Giant Squid and Australian Sea Lion.

More importantly, it is the home of the ultimate predator otherwise known as The Great White pointer Shark. They are very few locations in the world where you can access The Great White Shark as they are solitary oceanic creatures mostly inhabiting the open sea.

Take things to the extreme and plunge yourself into the water with them.....

This is where the action begins as they start to feed on the chum and offal in the water. Nothing is spared as these massive creatures test their teeth on everything including the boat and dive cage. Now it is time to enter the cage and meet your shark on a more personal level. The thrill of your first encounter with a GWS in its natural habitat will last a lifetime.....
